Contents for ESQ, Volume 33, 1987

No. 1 (1st Quarter) No. 126 o.s.

Daniel Kempton
The Gold/Goole/Ghoul Bug 1

Robert Milder
Emerson's Two Conversions 20

Maryhelen C. Harmon
Melville's "Borrowed Personage": Bartleby and Thomas Chatterton 35

John W. Crowley
Howells in the Eighties: A Review of Criticism, Part II 45

Contributors 66

No. 2 (2nd Quarter) No. 127 o.s.

Jane Donahue Eberwein
Emily Dickinson and the Calvinist Sacramental Tradition 67

Vernon Shetley
Melville's "Timoleon" 83

William Rossi
"The Limits of an Afternoon Walk": Coleridgean Polarity in Thoreau's "Walking" 94

David Jacobson
"Compensation": Exteriority beyond the Spirit of Revenge 110

Contributors 120

Contents for ESQ, Volume 33, 1987

No. 1 (1st Quarter) No. 126 o.s.

Daniel Kempton
The Gold/Goole/Ghoul Bug 1

Robert Milder
Emerson's Two Conversions 20

Maryhelen C. Harmon
Melville's "Borrowed Personage": Bartleby and Thomas Chatterton 35

John W. Crowley
Howells in the Eighties: A Review of Criticism, Part II 45

Contributors 66

No. 2 (2nd Quarter) No. 127 o.s.

Jane Donahue Eberwein
Emily Dickinson and the Calvinist Sacramental Tradition 67

Vernon Shetley
Melville's "Timoleon" 83

William Rossi
"The Limits of an Afternoon Walk": Coleridgean Polarity in Thoreau's "Walking" 94

David Jacobson
"Compensation": Exteriority beyond the Spirit of Revenge 110

Contributors 120

No. 3 (3rd Quarter) No. 128 o.s.

Ann Hostetler

Emerson and the Visual Arts:
Private Response and Public Posture 121

Jeanne Holland

Emily Dickinson, the Master, and the Loaded Gun:
The Violence of Re-figuration 137

Nancy Craig Simmons

Why an Enthusiast?
Melville's Pierre and the Problem of the Imagination 146

Mary M. Van Tassel

Hawthorne, His Narrator, and His Readers
in "Little Annie's Ramble" 168

Nina Baym

Subversion and the American Renaissance 180

Contributors 188

No. 4 (4th Quarter) No. 129 o.s.

Robert Sattelmeyer

"The True Industry for Poets":
Fishing With Thoreau 189

Walter Harding

Thoreau's Text and Murphy's Law 202

Lawrence Buell

The Literary Significance of the Unitarian Movement 212

Kent Ljungquist

Howitt's "Byronian Rambles" and the Picturesque Setting of "The Fall of the House of Usher" 224

Michael C. Berthold
The Prison World of Melville's Pierre and "Bartleby" 237

Contributors 253

The typesetting for ESQ: A Journal of the American Renaissance is done in 10 point Bodoni Book with an advanced phototypesetting system controlled by the TEX (Tau Epsilon Chi) programs developed at Stanford University by Donald Knuth. Special TEX layouts were composed by Dean Guenther, Janene Winter, and Alan Hagen-Wittbecker, of the Washington State University Computing Service Center. ESQ is produced through the Humanities Research Center at Washington State University, under the direction of Professor Thomas C. Faulkner.

ESQ: A Journal of the American Renaissance accepts advertisements for publications of interest to its audience. ESQ focuses upon the Romantic Transcendental tradition emanating from New England, of which Emerson is a principal figure, but its coverage also includes influences upon and responses to mid-century Romanticism generally, from Charles Brockden Brown to Henry James, from Philip Freneau to E. A. Robinson.

Single full-page advertisements in ESQ are priced at $125, half-pages at $85, and full-page ads in all four issues of a year are available to academic and commercial presses at a discount price of $400. All material submitted should be camera-ready. Please contact Washington State University Press, Pullman, Washington 99164-5910.